

Dean: Dr. Luria Young
Office: 310 Stewart Hall
Phone: 225-771-4483
E-mail: Luria_stubblefield@subr.edu Dean
Rank: Associate Professor

Education:

Ph. D., Louisiana State University (2004)
Ed.S., Louisiana State University (1997)
M. Ed., Louisiana State University (1995)
B. S., Southern University and A&M College (1993)

Areas of concentration

Persistence of students in college
Inquiry-based science and mathematics education
African American males

Courses Taught

Elementary, Middle, and Secondary Science Methods
Classroom Management
Informal Science Education (Graduate Level)
Secondary School Curriculum (Undergraduate and Graduate Levels)

Dr. Luria Shaw Young earned a Bachelor of Science in Biology from Southern University (SU), Baton Rouge, a Master of Education and Educational Specialist Certificate in science education from Louisiana State University (LSU), Baton Rouge, and a Ph.D. in Educational Leadership and Research, with a concentration in higher education, from LSU. She holds a joint position in the SU College of Education, Department of Curriculum and Instruction, Associate Professor and Laser Interferometer Gravitational Wave Observatory (LIGO) Science Education Specialist. In this capacity, Dr. Young works with the LIGO partnership (partners include the LIGO Science Education Center, the Louisiana Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs, and the San Francisco Exploratorium) to enhance pre-service teacher training and in-service teacher professional development using inquiry-based science and mathematics teaching and learning. Dr. Young is a Huel D. Perkins and Southern Region Educational Board Fellow. She is also the SU Teacher of the Year (2005-2006). Her research interests include the persistence of students in college, inquiry-based science and mathematics teaching and learning, and African American males.