

Cara R. Guilbeau
Program Coordinator/Assistant to the Dean
Southern University and A&M College

Cara Raquel Guilbeau is a native of Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Ms. Guilbeau started her education journey at Baton Rouge Community College where she earned her Associate in Business Management in the fall of 2008, she continued her education journey at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette where she earned her Bachelors of Science in Sports Management in the spring of 2012.

While her journey through college was not like most student's, Ms. Guilbeau earned her place at each institution by becoming heavily involved in student programing, serving her community and taking advantage of what college had taught her by mentoring others. While in college she was heavily involved in organizations such as Student Government Association, Campus Activity Board, Kinesiology Professional Association and worked in the athletic department at the University of Lafayette in marketing, promotions and game day management. With a strong background of proven leadership skills, mentoring and developing programs she shows a passionate new outlook on student life.
