Core Values:

Excellence Innovation Accountability

Vision Statement

To set a standard of excellence and expand the department's reach by the development of innovative journalism program models that promote lifelong learning, create positive pathways of change, and encourage universal/campus engagement.

About Student Media

The Office of Student Media serves as the voice of the student body at Southern University and A&M College.

Through platforms like our digital newspaper, EGO Magazine, the JagTalk podcast, and various social media channels, we provide timely, engaging, and informative content that keeps the campus community connected and informed.

We take pride in preparing the next generation of media professionals. With more than 70+ student journalists involved, our program offers specialized training designed to equip students with the skills needed for success after graduation.

Training areas include:

- Digital Media & Communications
- Graphic Design
- Broadcast Journalism
- Social Media Management
- Photography
- Newswriting
- Videography.

Mission

The Southern University Office of Student Media's mission is to guide, nurture, and develop a diverse population of students. Student Media serves as a forum for students' expressions and as a laboratory for training in journalism within the campus community. Through the production of quality publications, multimedia advancements, and collaborative partnerships, Student Media will provide leadership opportunities to prepare students for the global workforce.

Reach.

Why.

- Reach Gen Z directly at Southern University
- Authentic engagement with student voices
- Affordable, high-value exposure
- Multi-platform brand presence
- Supports student training and leadership

YOUR TARGET MARKET

Connect directly to campus and fellow students. Whether your goal is to attract new customers to your business, promote a specific initiative, or raise community awareness of a new location or service, advertising with The Office of Student Media is a good way to reach Southern University students, faculty, and the Baton Rouge community.

The number of college students is on the rise along with their discretionary spending dollars. This is an audience and market that you are undoubtedly striving to connect with. As potential customers, they are the group most likely to try “new” products and they are newly independent from the influence of their parents- developing brand loyalties of their own.
