(Prize money for the tied teams will be awarded at Southern University as the teams originally adjudicated!)
2. In case of a tie between any two second place teams, the highest and the lowest score will be dropped from the cumulative score of both teams; and the team with the higher score will be the second place winner.
3. There also may be a case where the dropping of the high and low score will result in another tie, thus the procedure will be followed.
4. In case of a tie between two second place teams, after the highest and the lowest score have been dropped from the cumulative score both teams; a cumulative score of the crowd/audience participation will be calculated and the team with the highest score will be awarded the place in question.
5. Lastly, if none of the above methods can break the tie, the teams tied will utilize a "flip of the coin" method.
