

Dear Southern University Students, Faculty, and Staff:

John B. Cade Library is committed to supporting the Southern University Community remotely by providing access to electronic content. Online users have access to library resources and services through the library's website, email, and chat services. The library provides immediate access to resources through an online environment that supports curriculum-related teaching, research, and scholarly communication.

Online Services include:

- John B. Cade Library's Website
- One-on-One Consultations via phone, email, chat or Skype with Librarians, Microsoft Teams, etc.
- Access to over 100 Databases that consist of specialized subjects, electronic references, video, etc.
- Electronic book collections via the library's website.
- Interlibrary Loan Services including Document Delivery Services
- LibChat (Librarian Chat Service)
- Electronic Reserves (Available via Moodle) Logon to Moodle. Locate/Click Dashboard/Select John B. Cade Library Electronic Reserve
- LibGuides (Subject/Course Guides)
- Instruct InfoLit Modules \(Literacy Instructional Content, Videos, and more..\)
- Archival Electronic Collection
- Electronic Textbooks
- Library Hours

Computer Labs

Library Computer Labs are open and available for use. Out of an abundance of caution for our students, the Library will ensure there are no groups larger than 50 using the labs at one time. Computers are available for students to take online tests. More than 30 plug and play webcams are available, if required for testing.

Library Support

Library faculty and staff are available to assist users in locating electronic resources, digital materials, creating e-course guides, and providing online library instruction and virtual library visits. Library liaisons are also available to assist students and faculty with the best tools and materials needed for research.

If you have any questions or need assistance please contact the Ask Here Desk at (225)771-2841, email: library@subr.edu, or text: 225.475.3176

Sincerely,

Dawn Kight, Interim Dean of Libraries
